

Personal Injury Legal Advice

Workers Compensation

Unfortunately, most injuries happen in the workplace. If you suffer an injury at work, or the nature and conditions of your employment cause you to suffer an injury, you are entitled to claim workers' compensation benefits, including income support, medical expenses and lump sum compensation. Our lawyers can assist you with advice and representation at any stage of your claim, including defending your entitlements if your claim is rejected.

Road Accident Claims

If you have been injured in a motor vehicle accident as a driver, passenger, pedestrian, cyclist, or motor bike rider, you may be able to claim compensation if you consider the other driver, or owner of the motor vehicle, to be partially or completely at fault for the accident.

We have been acting in claims arising from motor accidents for over 60 years and have a high level of experience and success in such claims.

Asbestos Disease Claims

If you have been diagnosed with any type of asbestos related disease, you may have significant entitlements to compensation.

Turner Freeman lawyers has the largest and most experience dust diseases practice in Australia, and has been representing thousands of asbestos victims for over 30 years.

Medical Negligence

A medical negligence claim is a claim for compensation arising out of an injury suffered as a result of negligent treatment provided by a health care practitioner. If you have suffered such an injury, then you may be eligible for compensation.

Our team of leading medical negligence lawyers has the knowledge and experience to ensure that your case is handled with utmost care and ability.

Public Liability

A public liability claim may arise in a wide variety of circumstances where a person suffers injury as a result of the failure of another person, government authority or business operator to take reasonable care for that person's safety. Public liability claims can arise from the following:

- Occupiers liability;
- Defective products;
- Recreational and sporting accidents;
- Animal attacks; or
- Council footpath or road incidents.

Disability Insurance Claims

Are you unable to work due to injury or illness? You may be able to access your Superannuation early. You also do not need to prove that the injury or illness was caused by someone else, or that it is work related.

Turner Freeman Lawyers can help you with your Superannuation, Disability & Insurance compensation claims. We can also help you contest, challenge or dispute a rejected claim on a No Win – No Fee basis.

Skin Cancer

Significant sun exposure over time can lead to the development of a skin cancer condition, which is a compensable condition under workers compensation legislation. Compensation may be available for the medical costs associated with the treatment of the skin cancer condition, as well as for the impairment created by the condition.

Industrial Deafness

Industrial deafness occurs as a result of exposure to noisy work environments over a long period of time and generally affects hearing in the higher frequencies. If you suffer from such hearing loss you may be entitled to:

- The supply and fitting of hearing aids; and/or
- Lump sum compensation.

Church and School Abuse

Turner Freeman lawyers provide advice to survivors of childhood sexual, physical and emotional abuse experienced in an institutional setting. Our experienced team will guide you through the legal process of a civil claim for compensation, as a result of the physical and emotional injuries which have arisen from the abuse.
